Redistricting impacts the region

Kris Larson
The State Journal
Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce

Protecting White Pat- terns and Diversity
As House Speaker, a strong strategic position or even a single wag- gle of a feather is a responsibility, all the more so for a com- munity, as well as that of the federal and state governments.

In addition, the Ohio legislature made a commitment to its constituents, by ensuring that Mor- gan County’s state and local government units remained together in Ohio’s new state legisla- tion, in the newly redrawn map. The pros-

There are several strategies that the Chamber’s research team can use to attract new business to the area and promote the development of existing businesses. The Chamber provides support in the form of networking opportunities, professional development workshops, and access to resources and expertise.

In terms of economic development, the Chamber works closely with local businesses to identify potential growth areas and encourage collaboration among them. It also promotes the region’s strengths and resources, such as its diverse workforce, advanced infrastructure, and strong education system.

The Chamber is an essential link in the local community, providing a platform for businesses to connect and thrive. By fostering an environment of cooperation and collaboration, the Chamber plays a crucial role in driving the region’s economic success.

GM
continues from D1

DG oil professor elected

The Organization of Amer- ican Studies elected Dr. Larry W. K. Miller as its Inter-American Com- missioner. The mission is to promote the study of the Americas by students, governments, and international organizations.

As an outspoken critic of the development of the oil industry in Brazil, Miller earned a reputation for his writings on the impact of petroleum development in the Americas.

Dayton Freight
honors

Dayton Freight recently celebrated its 20th anniversary. The company was founded in 1992 and has since grown to become one of the leading trucking companies in the United States. It serves a wide range of industries, providing services such as expedited shipping, less-than-truckload (LTL) freight, and intermodal transportation.

The company has received numerous awards and recognitions for its commitment to quality service and excellence in the industry. In addition, it has made a significant impact on the local community through its involvement in various charitable organizations and events.

Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce

Shaping the future of business in the area

The Dayton Area Chamber of Commerce is dedicated to improving the business climate in the area. It is committed to supporting local businesses and helping them grow and succeed in the community.

The Chamber provides a range of services to its members, including networking opportunities, professional development workshops, and access to resources and expertise.

It also promotes the region’s strengths and resources, such as its diverse workforce, advanced infrastructure, and strong education system. By fostering an environment of cooperation and collaboration, the Chamber plays a crucial role in driving the region’s economic success.